the inaugural function, NTU Rector Prof Dr Tanveer Hus-sain said that the main objec-tive of this event was to pro-mote and collaborate on innovations related to the tex-tile sector, commercialisation of innovations, textile engineer-ing capacity building, leverag-ing knowledge of expatriates around the world, providing ac-cess to Pakistan textile industry in world markets and help the government in formulating a vi-able and idealistic textile pol-icy. He said that the DICE Tex-tile was one of the biggest gatherings of academia and tex-tile industry and its major activ-ities this year were exhibition, research competition, interna-tional conference and innova-tion basket. The observers of the DICE exhibition were of the view that it was a good omen that the NTU had focused on the textile industry's multiple problems in this exhibition. They were confident that hold-ing of such events would surely resolve problems being experi-enced by the textile industry. The participants of the exhibi-tion especially expressed keen interest in the Pakistan Army uniform, paintings, fiber uses in medical section and textile fashion designs. The exhibition would conclude on March 7 (today).
